SPORTS AMATEURS PROVE REAL ATTRACTION-BIG CROWDS SPORTS

AMATEUR NOTES

The attendance at all amateur ball games continues to grow. There were not less than 2,000 spectators at Byrd Park yesterday, and reports from all sections of the city show improvement in the account.

Kingan & Co. stopped Portner's winning streak at Byrd Park, defeating them in the only game that they have lost this season. lost this season.

The Colonial Theatre team, of the Old Dominion League, has some old-time stars in its line-up, among them being Charlie Schmidt, Frank Boehling and John Whitfield, all of whom were members of the Battle Axe team whe it won the championship of the city.

Midget Orebaugh was back at his old job with the Grays yesterday after a week's tryout with the Newport News team. Midget was unable to get his eye on the ball while with the Ship-builders, and was sent home.

Nelson played a nice game at third for Colonial Theatre, accepting every-thing that came his way. He hit for a double and a triple besides.

"Dutch" Bottoms is umpiring for the Old Dominion League, and is doing nice work. Bottoms is about the best amateur umpire in town, and would, no doubt, make good in professional circles if given a chance.

Major Price has a good ball team, and should he win the championship of the city, ought to land the intercity series trophy.

Howitzers Win.

In an exciting extra-inning contest the Howitzers continued their winning streak by defeating Highland Park by the close score of 5 to 3. The game went eleven innings, the Howitzers pushing two men over after two wero out.

Highland Park fought doggedly against the hoodoo which has pursued them, and deserved to win. Their rejuvenated team is fast rounding into form, and is already a most formidable opponent. The score:
